LONDON Sept 2 —The Times devotes its leading ... analyses of the treaty recently concluded by the United States with China It says England is more interested in China than any other power Her commerce with that country has existed longer, and since the treaty with Pekin, her relations with its government have been more friendly She assisted the Imperial authorities in putting down the Taeping rebellion England is the proper power for China to employ as the proper medium for revising her treaties with other nations But the treaty with the United States aiming to restore the old exclusive policy has been rightly intrusted to the manipulations of a foreign counselor who advises what is impossible the restoration of the retrograde system The writer then proceeds to dissect one by one the articles of the new treaty calls attention to the fact that China obtains no concession from the United States On the other hand the latter gains a monopoly of railways and telegraph improvements This of itself, is sufficient objection to the treaty yet the question may be asked is it wise for England to multiply her differences with America on such grounds as these? The article concludes as follows We are bound to say with conviction that there is more underneath those negotiations than appears on their surface that they bear distinct traces of foreign inspiration It is our belief that this mission did not originate with the Chinese government The idea of calling Burlingame as a recruit for further Chinese ends so far from being spontaneous emanated from foreign brains and was suggested by the departure from China the American minister which was drawing near at the time the plan was formed

NEW YORK Sept 3 —Accounts from Greece say the Cretan insurrection is flourishing and the Turks are nearly worn out and discouraged and it will be with great difficulty that they can continue the contest

The christians are flushed with success and in fortified by recent ... Through the intervention of Ignatieff the Russian Embassador, the Porte has been obliged to dismiss the Pacha commanding in Candia

PARIS Sept 2 —The commission appointed to settle the claims of holders of Franco Mexican bonds has decided to pay thirty per cent of their share of the grant made by the corps legislatif as first installment of the amount due

BERLIN, Sept 2 —By order of the war office, recruiting for the army of Prussia has been postponed for three months

FLORENCE Sept 2 —The Italian Government is increasing the number of military posts on the frontier

ST PETERSBURG, Sept 3 —Bishop Plattnosk has refused to obey an order to send a delegate to the Catholic Synod about to convene Under direction of the Emperor he has been banished to Siberia

LONDON Sept 3 —An unsuccessful attempt was made yesterday to launch the steamer Hermann. With the exception of the Great Eastern she will be the largest steamer in the world

The Standard in an editorial on the American treaty with China says We cannot share the jealousy and suspicion with which the London Times regards this treaty In it we see nothing which shows that the United States has acquired a monopoly of privileges nor does the treaty give any evidence that China is fastening itself on a rock of ... and stagnation, but on the contrary it gives proof that the Chinese are preparing for advance by opening the windows in the great wall which separate the Celestials from civilization

The contractors who built the Metropolitan Underground Railroad have made propositions to construct the proposed underground road in New York city and furnish all the capital required to complete the road in case the projectors may fail to obtain the same at home

The Leader of the New Rebellion

When the New York platform first appeared it was immediately perceived that its salient point was the revolutionary declaration it contains. It was not then known at whose instance this avowal of a revolutionary purpose was inserted in the platform. The authorship of this rebellious fulmination is a recent discovery. And who is he who originated the idea that the restoration of the Union under the laws of Congress is unconstitutional, revolutionary and void, and caused that plank to be placed in the platform? He is no other than Wade Hampton, an original secessionist and rebel, and lately a General in the rebel army, in which capacity he did his utmost to overthrow the Government to which he owed allegiance, which had always protected his rights and which had made him all he was. That Government with a clemency which has no parallel in history forgave the ingratitude of the traitor, gave him his life and property when it might justly and lawfully have taken both, and permitted him to remain in the country he had so shamefully and so wickedly betrayed. What return does this unhanged ingrate make for the undeserved clemency of which he has been the recipient? He declares for another rebellion, he goes into the National Convention of his party or faction and dictates for their adoption a declaration which pledges them to a policy that can be carried out only by revolution, by rebellion against the Constitution of the United States and by a renewal of the civil war. He glories in his achievement, and his party—the Democratic party—promises to carry out the programme of this [illegible] and traitor.

Since the adoption and official proclamation of the fourteenth amendment, opposition to the restoration of the Union under the laws of Congress becomes opposition to the Constitution itself. Not satisfied with his former effort, this leading traitor and rebellious maker of Democratic platforms again raises the standard of resistance to the Constitution, Government and laws. Backed by the active support of the Democratic party, he and his fellow rebels hope this time to succeed. In the last rebellion only the Southern wing of the party took arms. The Northern wing gave their fighting brethren all the encouragement they could, short of [illegible] support. In the new rebellion it is hoped that the whole party will be enlisted, and a leader of the last rebellion, after dictating the new programme, goes back to his fellow rebels in South Carolina and boasts that he has brought the Democratic party of the North fully upon the Southern platform.

But this incipient rebellion will be crushed. The people who have thus far preserved the [illegible] will still have it in their safe keeping. A party which starts out with a declaration against the Constitution and an avowal of a purpose to restore slavery (and this is what Wade Hampton says they promised) will be stamped out. These bulbous indications of treason and revolution will not be suffered to take root and grow. It is better to prevent a rebellion than to fight it down after it gathers [illegible]; and acting on this principle the people will elect Grant and secure peace to the country.

Frank Blair as a Confiscator.

It took Frank Blair some time, after the war closed, to come round into the fraternal embrace of his Democratic brothers, whom he used playfully to call 'hell hounds.' He would not have been there yet, had he not been disappointed in the hopes of obtaining political honors from the Republicans. Before Frank swung around the circle he made a record on several subjects which he would be glad to bury now. Do Democrats know that in supporting Frank Blair they are giving their suffrages to a man who three years ago was in favor of a general confiscation of the property of their Southern Democratic friends? Just let the reader examine this extract from the farewell address of Major General F. P. Blair to his troops, dated at Louisville, August 11, 1865:

> The order for your disbandment (as you are well aware) has already been received, and nothing remains to be done to restore you to your homes and families, except the formal discharge from service. Your service demands a better recognition at the hands of the country you have aided to preserve, than mere words of applause. The Romans made their conquering soldiers freeholders in the lands they had conquered, and as upon your return to your homes you will find most of the occupations and employments filled by adepts from civil life, and as the Government has vast tracts of vacant lands which will be increased by the war, the interests of the country and your own will concur in the apportionment of these lands to your use and occupancy, establishing a citizen soldiery to maintain internal peace.

Three years ago our conquering soldiers according to the judgment of Frank Blair were to be made "freeholders in the lands they had conquered." "The interests of the country and your own," he argued, "will concur in the apportionment of these lands to your use and occupancy, establishing a citizen soldiery to maintain internal peace." Then, in Blair's judgment, the South was conquered territory, and belonged of right to those who had conquered it! Then, he thought a citizen soldiery should be established there. Now, he denounces such a system as he then recommended as a rule of "carpet-baggers!" The St Louis Democrat, in noticing this matter says: "We commend Blair's undoubtedly honest sentiments of three years ago to the admiration of the dupes who are to-day striving to be jubilant at his latest effort to excite a new revolution. The two positions are as opposite as Hades and Olympus, and every considerate man will ask himself, which was sincere and which was incident to honest patriotism. No sane person can give but one answer, and the people will repudiate the man of such madcap inconsistency, as one in whose judgment there is no trust to be reposed, or in whose integrity of thought and of conduct no confidence can rest. We bid the great party of the rebel Democracy joy in having for a candidate the great confiscationist and advocate of a carpet bag soldiery to maintain internal peace among conquered rebels. Long may he rule among them!"

General Wade Hampton, C. S. A., is the acknowledged leader of the Democratic party. See his speech in which he says he dictated the principal feature of the New York platform.

The Likeness of 1860 and of 1868

[From the New York Commercial Advertiser.]

We have recently called attention to the fact that the Democratic party of the South is taking very similar ground to that held by them in 1860. During the campaign of that year they threatened revolution if Lincoln was elected, and the period between his election and his inauguration was employed in maturing their plans of revolution and in preparing for war against the Government. On the 6th of November Lincoln was elected. On the 7th the United States officials in Charleston resigned. On the 10th Hammond and Chestnut resigned their places in the United States Senate. On the 20th of December South Carolina adopted the Ordinance of Dissolution. State after State went out, until by May 1861 the whole South was free and independent—a condition from which they were rather violently shaken some few years after by one Ulysses S Grant.

During the canvass of 1860 it will be remembered that Southern orators and presses made the threats which they subsequently endeavored to make good. The excuse put then made was that Mr Buchanan must be relied upon to let the Union slide, and the doctrine of his message that the power to coerce a State has not been delegated to Congress or to any other department of the Federal Government was anticipated. In October 1860 the Charleston Mercury used the following language:

> Mr Lincoln will not be installed in office before the 5th of March next. Long before this time the Southern States will have determined their course, and if this course shall be a secession from the Union by one or more Southern States, Mr Buchanan will have to guide the course of the general government to meet it. If he thinks that a State has a right to secede from the Union, of course he cannot order any portion of the United States army or navy against a seceding State. If he attempts coercion, every Southern man in his Cabinet and in the army and navy will doubtless leave them. Congress has no power to control the President's views of the Constitution, and the duty it involves.
> Before Messrs Lincoln and Hamlin can be installed in Washington as President and Vice President of the United States, the Southern States can dissolve peaceably (we know what we say) their Union with the North. Mr Lincoln and his Abolition cohorts will have no South to reign over. Their game would be blocked. The foundation of their organization would be taken away, and, left to the tender mercies of a baffled, furious and troubled North, they would be cursed and crushed as the flagitious cause of the disasters around them. But if we submit, and do not dissolve our union with the North, we make the triumph of our Union enemies complete and enable them to consolidate and wield the power of the North for our destruction.

This exposes the general outline of their plans, and how well it was carried out is fresh in the memory of our readers.

The point taken this year is that a Democratic President will effect the coming revolution, and restore the control of the Southern States to the former rebels. Thus Frank Blair says in his Broadhead letter:

> "We cannot undo the Radical plan of Reconstruction by Congressional action; the Senate will continue a bar to its repeal. Must we submit to it? How can it be overthrown? It can only be overthrown by the authority of the Executive who is sworn to maintain the Constitution, and who will fail to do his duty if he allows the Constitution to perish under a series of Congressional enactments which are in palpable violation of its fundamental principles.
> "If the President elected by the Democracy enforces or permits others to enforce these Reconstruction Acts, the Radicals, by the accessions of twenty spurious Senators and fifty Representatives will control both branches of Congress and his administration will be as powerless as the present one of Mr Johnson.
> "There is but one way to restore the Government and the Constitution, and that is for the President elect to declare these Acts null and void, compel the army to undo its usurpations in the South, disperse the carpet bag State Governments, allow the white people to reorganize their own governments and elect Senators and Representatives. The House of Representatives will contain a majority of Democrats from the North, and they will admit Representatives elected by the white people of the South, and with the co-operation of the President it will not be difficult to compel the Senate to submit once more to the obligations of the Constitution."

This work is to be done by the President elected by the Democracy, and if Mr Seymour is not elected, they hope that the present Executive will undertake the task.

A few days ago the Charleston Mercury addressed itself to the duty of showing how the reorganization desired by it and its friends could be effected. The white people "mean peaceably to meet in Convention, probably recommended by the legislators of their former legitimate State Government, and in such Convention form a Constitution for the government of these States." This is said to be a rightful privilege of the people, and to the objection that the "negro Governments in the Southern States" would not allow the whites to assemble, the Mercury says:

> "Suppose that this is done, does it afford any ground for support by the military authority of the United States? Clearly not. A Democratic President would most probably answer, to any application to him by the negro Governments for assistance: 'In my opinion your Government, in the first place, is unconstitutional and revolutionary, and therefore I decline to recognize your application; and, in the second place, you violate the Constitution of the United States in endeavoring by force to prevent peaceable assemblies by the people.' Such an answer in our judgment would secure a peaceful progress of events."

The whites then would proceed to frame a Constitution and elect State officers and Representatives in Congress. "This," it significantly adds, "can be done by the 4th of March next. Then a new Congress will have been elected. It will be Democratic," so the Mercury believes. What then?

> "The white man's representative will be admitted. In the Senate it will be different, but a Democratic Executive will certainly regard the action of the House of Representatives as the controlling authority to determine his duty."

The Mercury then adds that "if the negro governments shall lawlessly endeavor to prevent the peaceable assemblies of the whites, the whites will take care of themselves, only asking the Federal Government to stand aloof. In any event," it observes, "the white population will form a Republican Government and send Representatives to Congress."

This is a clear revolt against the laws of Congress, and is not only recommended by the Democratic candidate for Vice President, but eagerly seized upon and adopted by the leaders of Southern thought. The Reconstruction Acts are to be defied, the Southern States are to be carried by a white vote, and the Presidential electors so chosen are to demand a count in the Electoral College.

On the 10th of July, Wade Hampton said in this city:

> "We can have no relief unless the Democratic party will come out and pledge itself that the white people of the South shall vote. I want you all to register an oath, that when they do vote their vote shall be counted, and if there is a majority of white votes, that you will place Seymour and Blair in the White House, in spite of all the bayonets that shall be brought against them."

Such is the programme, and as we have shown day after day by copious extracts from Southern speeches, this programme is that upon which the Southern heart is set. It reminds us of 1860. Let us see to it that Grant is elected and Seymour defeated, so that PEACE and not REVOLUTION shall be the heritage of our immediate future.

The Democrats of Cincinnati have got a new song, written by a very remarkable genius, which they sing on great occasions with much unction:

Nigger, Nigger, Nigger,
Nigger, Nigger, Nig.
Nigger, Nigger, Nigger,
Nigger, Nigger, Nig.

Nigger, Nigger, Nigger,
Nigger, Nigger, Nig.
Nigger, Nigger, Nigger,
Nigger, Nigger, Nig.
CHORUS—Nigger, &c.

The Major Fellows who is stumping New York for Seymour and Blair is a renegade New Yorker who served in the rebel army. He was taken prisoner and disowned by a loyal father when he applied for assistance. He is just one of the fellows to support Seymour and Blair.

General George Spaulding, who two years ago was the candidate on the Democratic State ticket of Michigan for Auditor General, has taken the stump for Grant and Colfax.

The New Rebellion. Echoes of 1861

I will tell you another fact which is enough for this time, that as the late war was produced by the defeated Democratic party in 1860, we shall never have [illegible] until its [illegible] restored in 1868.—R. Toombs, Atlanta, Aug 10th 1868.

The same Toombs, in his speech before the Atlanta ratification meeting, eulogized Seymour as one who had been true to them "[illegible] peace and true men [illegible]." So he was.

If there be a wise set of men I would [illegible] as it would be the same men who furnished the means to carry on the most unholy war [illegible]. I would not tax them in property, but I would because I [illegible]—[illegible] Hill, ratification.

We arraign them in the name of our own brave Confederate dead [cheers], whose bones are strewn all over the Southwest, [illegible] killed in battle by the atrocious cruelty of the [illegible] Government. [Cheers.]—[illegible]

By the election of Seymour and Blair all the Confederacy fought for will be won.—[illegible]

This is the same Vance who in an address to the North Carolina soldiers during the war urged them to pile hell so full of Yankees that their feet would stick out of the windows, and who subsequently declared that he was going to fight the Yankees until hell was frozen over and then he would fight them on the ice.

Agree among yourselves and act firmly on this agreement that you will not employ any one who votes the Radical ticket.—Wade Hampton.

On the issue of the contest before them depended their all. Before the war the Southern people believed in State rights. They fought and spilled their blood for State rights. Unfortunately for them, and perhaps the whole country, the result of the war was a permanent extinguishment of State rights, unless, under God's providence, the Democratic party, under the leadership of Seymour and Blair re-establish the time honored principles.—Judge Jones, Mobile ratification.

The great Democratic party will rise in its might and majesty and pulverize and purge the Congress just as Cromwell purged the Long Parliament. The signs of the times are pregnant with resistance to Radical tyranny, and THE DAGGER OF BRUTUS MAY AID in accomplishing our redemption from Radical rule, ruin and usurpation.—Mobile Tribune.

We know there are many Democrats at the North, including some distinguished soldiers, who believe that the political atmosphere, poisoned by the long reign of Radical despotism, will not be so purified that liberty may flourish on it until a just chastisement is inflicted upon the daring men who have conspired against the freedom of the nation. In other words, that the counter revolution will not be complete without more blood letting.—Mobile Register.

The white men of the Southern States have seen the day when they could use the bullet, and if God in his anger permit the necessity to arise they will use it again.—Richmond Enquirer.

I have given my allegiance to the old flag, [illegible] we can restore the old flag again to be the representative of the principles of the Constitution, which we will be able to effect by the election of Seymour and Blair.—[illegible] Mobile.

Now for the first time we have a platform, principles and leaders around whom we could rally. It was the noblest, best, boldest declaration of principles ever laid down in the United States, and the demonstration to-night shows that it was in unison with the feelings of the people. There was nothing that the South wanted that was not there. The military despotism which has held us in thralldom was there set in its proper light. For the first time we have a platform we can adhere to. We have a work to do which can be accomplished. We have leaders to represent those principles who will carry us out of the Slough of Despond. Peace has its victories as well as war; those great principles for which we fought and which we feared were lost may yet be achieved.—General A R Lawton, Savannah.

Who First Thought of a Pacific Railroad

[New York Correspondence Sacramento Union.]

A San Francisco paper (recently and erroneously) awarded the honor of having first conceived the project of a Pacific Railroad to General M M McCarver, a pioneer of Oregon. I saw the statement when it first appeared, and felt sure that an army of contestants would immediately arise to devour the land. The first one has sprung to arms in the columns of the Tribune. He writes to the editor from Norwalk, Connecticut, and claims the honor of the original projectorship for S W Benedict, now a real estate broker in Pine street. He declares that McCarver's claim to paternity for that road is groundless, as he (Benedict) published it in detail long before General McCarver put in any claim; that Betts, the real originator of the plan, may with more propriety charge McCarver with a false claim than the General can charge it upon Whitney. The plan was published in the Norwalk Gazette thirteen years earlier than General McCarver gave any notice of it to the public, and before there was a mile of such road in use for passenger travel on the continent. The following certificate is published in support of Benedict's claim:

> (Copy.)—That there need be no hesitancy as to the brain that gave the first conception to the Pacific Railroad, I would state that Henry Betts of Norwalk, Connecticut, drew up the plan for such a road from the junction of the Kansas and Missouri rivers to the tide waters on the Columbia, which I published in the Norwalk Gazette in 1828. In this plan he described his method for bridging the rivers, tunneling the mountains and spanning the ravines that lie in the route. I published it under protest that everybody would say he was cracked. H B

Who H B is we are not vouchsafed information. But it is evident from his style that so momentous a question as this cannot be safely left to his decision. His ideas are a little confused, for he heads his communication "The Discovery of Gold." Still he is right that the claim of General M M McCarver is not well founded. Should the discussion become serious and threaten the East and West in hostile controversy, it may become such old fossils as your correspondent to resurrect his dry bones and search among the dust and ashes of the past the true parent of the Pacific Railroad.

State Orphans' Asylum

[FOR THE OREGONIAN.]

We [illegible] through your columns to interest our citizens in behalf of the Orphans Aid Society, recently organized in this city.

The object of the Society is to aid in establishing a State Orphans Asylum at Salem. A society was formed there for this purpose about two years since, and they have now a fund of $1,800. They have also had a donation of ten acres of land on which to erect their buildings.

A branch society was organized here about three weeks since, and a very commendable degree of interest has been manifested, the society numbering now about fifty members.

After considering various plans for raising funds it was left to try the experiment of raising the fund by membership fees alone. The ladies' annual fee is one dollar, for the gentlemen five dollars. Having already fifty members, it was thought fifty more could be easily obtained, and that each lady ought to be able to obtain at least one gentleman member.

We feel confident that the object is such that it will at once commend itself to the sympathy and benevolence of our citizens.

As our State increases in population it will be found to be the part of prudence and economy as well as Christian charity to provide as well as possible for our orphans and destitute children. Shall we give them a comfortable happy home, kind care, educate them in mind and morals, so that they shall in after life be a blessing and honor to our State, or shall we leave them without care, exposed to all the temptations of crime, and afterwards support them in our jails and State prisons? No one will hesitate as to which is duty.

We hope our citizens will respond heartily to this call upon the [illegible] and give a generous contribution [illegible] carrying forward this humane and christian enterprise.

Vallandigham says the New York Convention was imbued with the spirit which went forth on the nativity when Christ was born. The operations of that spirit are described on unequivocal authority in these words: "Then Herod was exceedingly wroth, and sent forth and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under."

There are six sugar refineries in Philadelphia.

Political Brevities

Gen F D Sewall, a life-long Democrat, who has identified himself with the Republicans for the first time this year, presided at the great Republican mass meeting in Bath, Me, held on the 5th of August. Gens [illegible] and [illegible] Shepley made speeches.

Colonel J. F. Guppey, of Portage, Wisconsin, Colonel of the Twenty third Wisconsin Infantry, and a few years ago a Democratic candidate for Congress from the Madison District, a man of high character and considerable influence—has declared for Grant and Colfax.

Mr George Wilkes has published his views of The Philosophy of the Campaign, in which he expresses the opinion that the victory of General Grant will be so rapid that it may be likened to a march rather than a contest, and will hardly want the [illegible] for election at all.

The New York [illegible], one of the oldest and ablest Democratic papers, is dissatisfied. It [illegible] the party backed [illegible] an ultra Democrat. The party backs Seymour, [illegible] the ultra [illegible] Blair, and the [illegible] has an ugly habit of [illegible].

The Elmira Gazette, the only Democratic daily in Chemung county, New York, has run up the names of Grant and Colfax, declaring that Horatio Seymour cannot and should not be elected President of the United States. The Gazette will be [illegible]. The Elmira [illegible] says it is understood that no attempt will be made to establish another Democratic paper in that city.

They are coming—the Conservatives. The Republicans who bolted to the Conservative chute are returning thick and fast. Tom Stillwell of Indiana, who went off two years ago, is back again, and he gave his reasons for his course at Columbus, Indiana, in a short speech. It is all up with Seymour. The tide is flowing. No mistaking the signs of the times. Grant will soon be the hero of another unconditional surrender.

Says the Chicago Tribune: The Democratic papers are publishing a list of the fifteen Union Generals who are supporting Blair and Seymour. Two of the number have already pronounced for the Republican ticket. Five more were retired in disgrace during the war. One has been court-martialed and punished since the war. Two were never in any engagements. One is dead, and of the remaining four Slocum is the only one deserving mention.

Silver, it is stated, has for many ages been withdrawn from circulation by the natives of the East Indies, who use that metal alone for ornaments of the person. The population of the country is nearly 100,000,000, and each individual, it is reported, wears four or five silver rings, bracelets or charms. The custom is not confined to the females, and the males are as profusely decorated as the women. Extravagant as the calculation may appear, it is stated that there are at least one thousand million ornaments worn by the natives, and no approximate estimate can be made of the money value of the [illegible].

THE CHRONICLES.

And it came to pass in the third year of the reign of the [illegible] who was ruler over the land of Webfoot, that the news went throughout all the land that KOHN & FISHEL, at No. 91 Front street, Portland, were selling Dry Goods and Clothing at fabulously low prices, and all the people heard [illegible] and they straightway came unto the place, and when they had demanded [illegible] at KOHN & FISHEL'S store, they marveled and said: "The half has not been told, for here we can buy all kinds of Clothing [illegible] for ourselves, our wives and our little ones, much cheaper than at any other place in all the land of Webfoot." And from that day even until now the people have come in great numbers to buy their goods of KOHN & FISHEL.

Are You Bilious?—Multitudes of both sexes will answer this question in the affirmative, for, next to disorders of the stomach, liver complaints are perhaps the most prevalent of all internal diseases. Its usual symptoms are a yellowish tinge in the whites of the eyes, especially near the lower corners, an uneasy or slightly painful sensation in the side, pain between the shoulder blades, sick headache, lassitude, mental dullness, lack of appetite and irregularity of the bowels. Whoever recognizes this diagnosis, applying to his own condition, may be quite certain that more bile exists in his blood, and less passes through his bowels, than is expedient for his health, and that his liver requires toning and regulating. One of the special uses of HAVING HAD MY ATTENTION CALLED TO AN article in the Evening Commercial entitled "Justice vs. Sympathy," I take this method of informing the public what "Justice vs. Sympathy" in this case means.

On Wednesday last, agent of the Blind Troupe called upon Mr Lappeus for the purpose of procuring Oro Fino Hall for a performance by the Blind Troupe, at the same time calling his attention to the programme for the evening (which stated that at the conclusion there would be twelve dances). Mr Lappeus informed me that he would charge $25, but that the Hall was undergoing repairs and might not suit. After examining the Hall I told him that we could get along.

Before the performance commenced Mr Lappeus demanded his pay, and it was paid, and the following is a verbatim copy of his receipt:

Portland, Sept 4th 1868.
Received of Blind Troupe Twenty Five Dollars for one Knight's use of Oro Fino Hall.
(Signed) JAMES H LAPPEUS

Now Mr Lappeus rented the Hall for the usual price, and [illegible] Knight [illegible] refused to fulfill his part of the contract. (We had advertised twelve dances and he knew it.)

I make this statement in justice to the Troupe, and for the purpose of placing the [illegible] in their [illegible] Knight.

WALLAMET—PROPER ORTHOGRAPHY —We make from a brief treatise on the origin and proper orthography of the name of our chief river and valley, written by the Bulletin's Oregon correspondent, in 1866, presents its correct derivation as the highest authority for the spelling of the word

"The word is of Indian origin and as they had no the early settlers of this country caught the pronunciation from them and gave it a language. It being often difficult for white persons to get the correct pronunciation of Indian words and owing to the different training of the organs of speech, it was in course that the word was spelled differently by different people. In this way in early times the name came to be spelled by those in the country who were familiar with the Indian pronunciation—Wallamet and Irving, in his Astoria, spells it Wallamut, while the orthography from Capt Bonneville, and the latter took it from the Indian pronunciation. Later many people who knew nothing of Oregon had discovered in the name a corruption of a proper name brought here and by the early French voyageurs. So also, they commenced to act upon this and wrote the name Willamette—with the accent and sometimes making the final e or Willamette with the accent on the This fancy orthography as is often the way to the departments at Washington disseminated on maps and charts and as a case in point, take the U S Survey of the and there is scarcely a bay, harbor, or with an Indian name that any would recognize either by the

with Dr McLaughlin in 1850 the to ask him the origin of the name ation and orthography He told an Indian word and always pronounced Wa-lam-it—the accent on the first syl and the a as in father Among the settlers and first came to Oregon (1843) the word pronounced Time, immigrants and have somewhat modified the pro so that the accent is thrown more forward on and the broad of the a is not the Wallamet Univer name was given to it by the early missions ography still prevail on a cata now before me—is Wallamet But the McLaughlin, chief factor of the Hudson a resident of this country from to the time of his death in 1858, is The word as correctly pronounced may be If spelled with an instead of an as in Irving's Astoria, it might Indian sound but between is not accented, there is not much I hope that I may be allowed to use the the Bulletin as I spell it, and as every born pronounces it—W-O—"

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions the sale of which daily increases The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price excites the cupidity of some manufacturers and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice

Song

The world goes up and the world goes down,
And the sunshine follows the rain;
And yesterday's sneer and yesterday's frown
Can never come over again,
Sweet wife,
No, never come over again.

For woman is warm though man be cold,
And the night will hallow the day;
Till the heart which at even was weary and old
Can rise in the morning gay,
Sweet wife,
To its work in the morning gay.

—Charles Kingsley.

Hear Daniel S. Dickinson

The Democracy of Daniel S. Dickinson, of New York, we have never heard called in question. He knew Horatio Seymour well. In a speech at the Cooper Institute, New York, October 8, 1862, he gave his opinion of the man in the following words:

"When the most atrocious conspiracy which ever desecrated earth found development in the assault upon our national flag at Sumter, and in efforts to massacre a half starved garrison placed there in a time of profound peace, according to uniform usage, for no other offense than asserting the supremacy of their country's Constitution and giving to the breeze its emblematic thereof, the glorious Stars and Stripes of their fathers—when the brave volunteers who were hurrying to the defense of our nation's capital, to save it from mob and rebellion, and conflagration, were bleeding by traitorous hands—when strong men trembled, when women wept, and children instinctively clung closer to the maternal bosom when all communication between the loyal States and the Capital was cut off by rebellious forces—when the President elect of the United States had then recently reached the seat of Government, where duty called him, by a circuitous and unusual route, and in disguise, to escape the danger of the assassin, and when our land was filled with alarm—when 'shrieked the timid and stood still the brave,' and the confiding mass looked about to see who were the men for the crisis among the citizens of the Empire State, who had borne a part in public affairs, and we naturally looked up to as exemplars in such a crisis, he (Horatio Seymour) hied himself away upon the double quick in the opposite direction [laughter], and for nearly half a year hid himself among the lakes and rivers and romantic woodlands, and inland towns of Wisconsin; and his tongue was as silent on denouncing the rebellion as those of the murdered volunteers, whose 'ghosts walked unrevenged amongst us.' [Sensation.]

There, we may suppose he basked, and balanced, and watched, and turned and twisted [laughter] until Autumn, when a small lot of defeated, defunct, desperate and despicable politicians, who had for years hung upon the subsistence department of the Democratic party in this State, came to his relief by entering the field. [Laughter.] They borrowed without leave the honored name of Democracy, under which to perpetrate their covert treason, as the hypocrite

'Stole the livery of the court of Heaven
To serve the devil in.'

Their disgraceful and disloyal record stands out as the doings of men too steeped in political depravity to be gifted with ordinary instincts, and too regardless of the popular will to be mindful of [illegible] and the defeat they experienced at the hands of the people should serve as a warning to trimmers, and ingrates, through all future time.

This movement drew the secluded one from his hiding place, and he came forth, with all the courage of him who, in a conflict with his wife, being driven under the bed, while remaining thus ensconsed, declared that whether she consented or not, he would look out through a knot hole in the clapboards, so long as he had the spirit of a man! [Great and repeated laughter and applause.] He entered the political canvass and on the 28th of October, 1861, a few days before the election, made a speech, the burden of which was an apology for the rebellion, and a condemnation of the administration for having meted out the rigor of martial law to those in arms against the Government. Though abounding with flimsy [illegible] and sophistical generalities, it contained one point worthy of not only notice, but of the severest reprehension, and here it is:

"If it is true that slavery must be abolished to save the Union, then the people of the South should be allowed to withdraw themselves from that Government which cannot give them the protection guaranteed by its terms."

What! Place this glorious Union, this best age of human hope, this asylum for the world's pilgrims, this refuge for the oppressed of earth, in the scale of being beneath the black and bloated and bloody—the corrupt and corrupting—the the stultified and stultifying institutions of slavery. No! Sooner than this Union be severed, let not only the institution perish whenever and wherever it can be found, but let the habitations that have known it perish with it and be known no more forever. [Tremendous and long continued applause. 'That's so!' 'That's the talk!' Three [illegible].] And yet this returning fugitive from patriotism proclaims as his creed, in effect if not in terms, that if either slavery or the Union must be destroyed, it should be the Union! And the name of this man is Horatio Seymour." [Sensation.]

Thaddeus Stevens.

Among the warm tributes to the memory of the Pennsylvania statesman, there are none we have seen which surpasses the following from the Cincinnati Gazette:

A great figure in American politics has been removed. Thaddeus Stevens is dead. As he once predicted would be his lot, he was taken up into a mountain and shown the beauty of the land, but was not permitted to enter in. He lived long enough to see the closing conflict of the struggle, and to know the end was sure, but his eyes were not suffered to see the full brightness of his final triumph, that even now approaches. Yet he fell as he had wished, with his armor on, to the last he fought the good fight and kept the faith.

Since John Randolph's, there has not been such a death. Since Henry Clay breathed out his life at Ashland, so much actual power over the politics of the country has not vanished with the breath of a single weak old man.

There have been wiser statesmen among us than Thaddeus Stevens. There have been men of purer lives. There have been more graceful writers, more eloquent speakers. But in the grace of a pure purpose, in the eloquence of a whole hearted devotion, the wisdom of a statesmanship that might err as to means, but never as to nobility of aims, he has been without superiors; in lofty courage, an antique Roman fidelity, an iron purpose, he has been without an equal.

What a space this old man, who, at midnight last night, quietly and peacefully sank to rest on Capitol Hill, within sight of the scene of his services and triumphs, has filled in the crowded history of the country, we cannot now hope to outline. How, through the war, he was one of the most hopeful of those who never despaired, and in the darkest hours had the highest hopes of the republic; how he held up the hands of those who were ready to faint, and infused his own courage and his faith into the government; how clearly he saw from the beginning the vital points of the struggle; with what sublime trust he declared that the war could end only in the freedom of the slaves, and with what relentless purpose he drove a reluctant party to emancipation as the only means of securing success; what fervor of religious zeal he brought into the contest, and how solemnly he believed that he was doing God's work in pushing the war against the rebellion to the uttermost; all this is written in the imperishable records of the government, in the hearts of the race he hoped to liberate, and in the grateful memory of the people he helped to save.

Not less clear are the thronging recollections of his later and still higher services. His was the piercing vision that penetrated the dangers of Johnson's reconstruction; his the inexorable will that forced the Republican party into the refusal to admit at once to power in Congress the rebels just conquered in the field; his the warning voice that, amid the confusions and cowardice of the hour, proclaimed that there was no safety for the white Union men of the South save in doing justice to the black Union men of the South, and no security for the nation till it learned to rule in righteousness.

General Jones, who has been appointed City Register of New York, vice General Halpine, deceased, was breveted for distinguished gallantry at the battle of Allatoona, was with Sherman on his Great March, and was chosen Clerk of the Court of Appeals at the election of 1865 by a large majority.

A Paris paper prints a despatch from Ireland that arms had been seized from an American who lately landed at Queenstown, and it gravely adds: 'Other seizures of the same kind having recently taken place, the authorities have given orders to shoot all travellers coming from America.'

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

Portland, Oregon, July 28, 1868.

As there are a great many people sick and dying of a disease called Cholera Morbus, I would call attention to the Chinese Doctor Jim. Having eaten green fruit I was taken very bad with the above disease and lay insensible for four hours, when Dr. Jim was called, and in 20 minutes after he gave me the first [illegible] I was easy and asleep. I believe that there is not a doctor on the Pacific coast that could have relieved me as quick as Dr. Jim did.

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Although the fame of this renowned [illegible] rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which as a sex they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

H. W. SHIPLEY'S PACIFIC TURBINE WATER WHEEL.

THESE WHEELS EXCEL ANY OTHER WHEEL in use, and are no infringement on the Leffel American Turbine, but excel it in every particular.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern.—One A. Myers is publishing and circulating a statement that my wheel is an infringement on the Leffel wheel, and he will prosecute said infringement to the utmost extent of the law. His statements are not worth a denial. His game is "Bluff," which if he would only take the case to Court would soon be played out. Don't believe him.

I would be glad to get a case into the United States Court and get a decision. That would forever stop the mouth of Myers and his misrepresentations. The legal opinions of more reputable lawyers than Dodge & Munn and A. Myers have pronounced my patents no infringement on the American Turbine. H. W. SHIPLEY.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation they sadly suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents and guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and their places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

* IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED, UTMOST SECRECY MAINTAINED.*

The above rules, [illegible] by Dr. J. C. Young in [illegible] and which have done so [illegible] to secure the reputation [illegible] Institute, are still adhered [illegible] affording those in [illegible] medical aid, the certainty [illegible] cure and the utmost [illegible]

There is nothing of so [illegible] importance to the afflicted [illegible] know where to find a physician whose skill and [illegible] give assurance of proper [illegible] delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of [illegible] who are suffering or in [illegible] to the invariable success [illegible] has marked the career [illegible] Institute in the seventeen [illegible] of its existence.

It is unnecessary in [illegible] nection to enumerate [illegible] complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor [illegible] his duty to call especial [illegible] tion to that terrible [illegible]

SEMINAL WEAKNESS

That is sapping with [illegible] sidiousness the very life [illegible] victims; in the treatment [illegible] cure of which the Institute [illegible] earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ!

I am aware that by dwelling upon [illegible] ject as the decay of manly vigor [illegible] vital principle of life, the ignorant may [illegible] tive; but the desire to point out to [illegible] guish and decay, the true [illegible] of their [illegible] great an incentive to be forced into [illegible] tended the terrible disease of [illegible] one but the practical specialist who [illegible] treatment can tell; but its progress [illegible] the most inexperienced by noting the [illegible] toms, Weakness of the back and [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power, [illegible] cold feet or hands, nor [illegible] of consumption; short breath; [illegible] sion to society, confusion of the mind, [illegible] nightly emissions, colorless, [illegible] least excitement [illegible] regular appetite; [illegible]

YOUNG MAN, if you [illegible] symptoms enumerated above, [illegible] present is the golden moment in [illegible] health and happiness. You may feel [illegible] you have ever practiced the vice of [illegible] system, and their undermining [illegible] or later, dash the fair edifice of your [illegible] ground, leaving you a helpless, [illegible] disease that declares itself at once [illegible] est danger; for while the patient is [illegible] affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, [illegible] tions, he sinks into a general debility [illegible] to the list of the victims of the terrible Weakness.

See in the best form and languishing [illegible] victim of the fascinating vice! Mark the [illegible] [illegible] complained in the following [illegible]

Drowsiness is one of the premonitory [illegible] first it is easily shaken off, but it grows [illegible] great disinclination to pursue his regular [illegible] mind becomes [illegible], and restless [illegible] days of depression.

It is the nature of the complaint to [illegible] changes that leave the poor victim but little [illegible] covery. In a single instant it may [illegible] hopes and blast your honest aspirations.

Marriage is [illegible] by a natural [illegible] lief. This is an error of the first magnitude, [illegible] tem, unprepared for the exigencies of the [illegible] denly fails, and he finds himself in a [illegible] from which there is but the slightest [illegible] Or if the marriage should result in [illegible] ny, [illegible] stunted, decrepid, and degenerate, [illegible] ble to both sexes, whether married or [illegible] times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms [illegible] rible complaint, or if your acts have been [illegible] to them, but by instant application [illegible] only hope of health and happiness. The [illegible] mercury or other deleterious drugs—cures, [illegible] time, always guaranteed, and full and [illegible] stored.
